FLOOD LIGHT FROM THE PREZ

Did I make it in time? I just got my computer back from the shop after one of my hard drives went blitz. Barely enough time to get this out to all of you, I hope. Things have really been hectic. Our Three Club Exhibition came off successfully. It appears the event broke even and we all enjoyed the great selection of prints and the three AV shows. Unfortunately my own Photo Art Program was snowed off the map as the BAC closed for the storm on the night of my presentation. Well, there is always next year. I will have a guest speaker for the April evening.

The next big events, yes there are more than one, are coming up fast. On the 28th of March our work will be displayed in the Fireside Lounge. Glen Jones is already working on this project. Please help him by submitting some real fine work, and then hang it on the wall. Ah, then there is Kaleidoscope on 13, 14, 15 April. I am sitting on that commit

Well if the Prez is frazzled I am one degree just behind him. Sorry for the delay, I guess I am discovering which moths are busier than others. So much that I have missed most of the submission deadlines, I hope I was the only one.

As Paul suggested to me in his e-mail I would have loved to spend a longer time taking about the very informative and enjoyable Studio evening learning about photographing reflective objects. I will make a point to bring a small column about it in the next newsletter.

The next issue will bring also a small travel article about Mexico as experience by Pat & Gary Beau-doin. I will add a small retrospective of the Mexico I left behind over 20 years ago.

Thank you Ron for the excellent and interesting winter shots.

tee right now, again with the help of Glen Jones who did so last year. Ah, yes, we need two hang prints for that event. They will only be used for display in one of the glass cages in the hallways. Make sure they are not toooooo large so they fit into one of the cages. These two prints are needed on Friday, 2 March when the center opens in the morning. Please deliver them to the workroom by Thursday night. I will then see to it that they get to the right person. Did I make it in time?

Next! The juried show on 21 April. Larry Feldman is already on his toes with this one. Listen to his announcements and give him a hand. Finally, on the 28th of April we have our annual seminar. Keith Marshall and his committee is busting his chops to get everything right and Paul Sparrow is working on the AV Festival for the same evening. All of these people need your help. Don't let them down.

If you get the feeling that I am a bit stressed out, it is probably true that I am. Now that I have my computer up and running, save for some glitches here and there, maybe things will return to my normal state of utter disarray. Do some deep breathing now. Innnnn, oouutttt.
